

The University of Missouri College of Veterinary Medicine, Department of Veterinary Medicine and Surgery (VMS) invites applicants for Assistant, Associate or Full Professor (tenure track or non-tenure track teaching) position in Veterinary Cardiology. Please go to <http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic/index.php>, to Keyword Veterinary Cardiology or Job 21758. There you can view complete job posting and apply online.

Job Description

The successful applicant will participate in the operation of a busy cardiology service with residents, a full-time technician, and veterinary students scheduled as part of the elective clinical cardiology rotation. Responsibility for teaching in the basic and advanced didactic courses will be shared by the two cardiology clinicians. Available state-of-the art equipment includes clinical and research angiography suites including digital fluoroscopy and cineangiography, a dedicated echocardiographic machine (Toshiba Artida™ featuring 4D imaging, speckle tracking, transesophageal echocardiography), a dedicated workstation, phonocardiography, and electrodiagnostic and pacing capabilities. Other services available in the hospital include digital radiography, ultrasonography, nuclear medicine, 64 slice CT, 3.0 Tesla MRI, video endoscopy, linear accelerator, radiotherapy facilities, and physical rehabilitation facility. Collaborative research opportunities exist within the college, at the Dalton Cardiovascular Research Center, and at the School of Medicine, all located on the Columbia campus.

The position can be structured as either a tenure track or a clinical track depending upon the candidate's interests and experiences. In either instance, the individual will be expected to contribute to the College's overall goals through teaching, clinical service, collaborative or independent research and outreach, with the percent effort towards each to be commensurate with the chosen track.

This is a 1.0 FTE / 12 month appointment.

Qualifications

- Candidates must have a DVM or equivalent degree;
- Completion of a residency in veterinary cardiology; or Diplomate status in the American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine (ACVIM) or European College of Veterinary Medicine (ECVIM), specialty of cardiology;
- Eligibility for professional or faculty license to practice veterinary medicine in Missouri;
- Eligibility for BNDD and DEA certification in the State of Missouri.

Selection Criteria

Candidates will be assessed based upon educational and professional achievement. Clinical experience, research experience, communication skills, organizational skills, experience working effectively in diverse environments and letters of reference will collectively be considered in selection of a candidate. Potential for candidate to work within the framework of the Veterinary Health Center services will be assessed. We are seeking a candidate with interest in practicing up-to-date medicine/surgery, who has a passion for teaching.

Inquiries about the position or the Cardiology Service may be directed to Dr. Stacey Leach, University of Missouri, Veterinary Health Center, 900 E. Campus Drive, Columbia, MO, 65211, (573-882-7821), e-mail: leachsb@missouri.edu. Applications will be reviewed until a suitable candidate is identified.

Our Campus and Our Community

MU's Veterinary Health Center is a state-of-the-art teaching and medical services facility for companion animals as well as livestock. Columbia, MO is an ideal location for such a teaching hospital. The population of central Missouri and reasonable proximity to St. Louis and Kansas City provide for a robust small animal emergency and referral caseload.

MU is a nationally competitive, global university. Many states fund separate research and land-grant universities, but Missouri combines those roles at its flagship institution. MU is both a land-grant university with a statewide mission of service to citizens and Missouri's largest public research university. Mizzou is one of only five universities nationwide that offers law, medicine, veterinary medicine and a nuclear research reactor on one campus.

MU is a national leader in comparative medicine, in which researchers collaborate by sharing discoveries, innovations and treatments for humans and animals. For more about the College of Veterinary Medicine and our impact on Missouri, the nation and the world, go to:

Studies consistently rank Columbia as a top city in which to live for educational facilities, health care, technological savvy, economic growth, and cultural opportunities. The cost of living is still affordable, whether you prefer an apartment in the city, a farm on a country road or a family home near a top notch school. With a population of 108,500, Columbia is located in the heart of Missouri on Interstate 70. American Airlines connects Columbia Regional Airport with Dallas and Chicago. United flies from COU to Chicago and Denver. We have easy access to international airports from both St. Louis and Kansas City, as well.
