Equine Medicine and Surgery Rotating Internship

The University of Missouri-Columbia, College of Veterinary Medicine, Department of Veterinary Medicine and Surgery’s Equine service invites applications for a rotating internship position.

The Equine Medicine and Surgery Internship at the University of Missouri, College of Veterinary Medicine, is designed as a rotating internship. The position offers the opportunity to work in a progressive environment where continual learning, high standards, and teamwork are emphasized. Primary goals of the program are to enable the intern to practice veterinary medicine with an increased depth of experience and to help satisfy requirements for entry into residency board certification programs.

The duration of the internship will be 6-18 months depending on the goals of the selected candidate and Equine Section. During the period of employment, interns rotate through the equine ambulatory, medicine and surgery services. Interns share in emergency duty rotation with other equine house officers and participate in clinical instruction of third-and fourth-year veterinary students during their clinical rotations. In order to minimize response time for hospitalized patients, interns are expected to obtain housing within a 20-minute radius of the Veterinary Health Center.

Interns are expected to attend resident/intern seminars and present one 25-minute seminar. Interns participate in rounds of the clinical rotation to which he or she is assigned and have opportunities to attend and participate in the various journal/book clubs and faculty/resident rounds organized by the equine section. Possibilities for interaction or participation in research or educational projects also exist.

Employment Details:

Annual salary will be $27,000. The position includes University Benefits plus $600 Professional Development fund assuming continual financial health of the Veterinary Health Center and 10-days paid leave. Licensure in the State of Missouri, a Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs permit, and USDA accreditation are required. Licensing fees are $285 plus an additional $25 if a provisional license is required.

Prerequisites:

1) A license to practice veterinary medicine in the State of Missouri must be obtained within 90 days of employment. For details regarding licensing, requirements, applications, and preparatory materials see Missouri Veterinary Medical Board: http://pr.mo.gov/veterinarian.asp

For the unlicensed applicant who is selected; application forms for the Missouri State Board Examination will be e-mailed immediately after announcement and confirmation of the match.
Plan on sitting for the Missouri Veterinary Medical Board as soon as possible, to ensure licensure requirements are met. Completion of a 320 hour preceptorship is a requirement for full licensure. These required hours may be completed concurrently with the internship. Alternately, prior to graduation, hours spent in private practice externships/preceptorships may qualify for licensure.
