

1. Marion Butcher: Marion comes in early every day (and even on weekends!) to take care of the unpredictable but sometimes very heavy caseload of Salmonella cultures; his contribution is critical to lab success! - Tamara Gull
2. Lisa Thompson: Lisa assisted with setting up the in person interviews the first week of January. She is always willing to pitch in and help when needed. - Jennifer Hamilton
3. Heather Gibson: Heather has a great ability to identify testing issues and she is incredibly skilled at the microscope! In addition to her usual level of awesome in the lab, Heather has recently picked up more responsibilities and a greater workload overall to help out while we are temporarily short staffed. Thank you Heather! - Angela Royal
4. Lisa McCubbins: I had a conflict and needed someone to assist with an event at the last minute. Lisa helped setup the buffet line and drink dispensers for the in person interviews which was greatly appreciated. - Jennifer Hamilton
5. Randy Wallace: Randy is not only a good custodian, but he's an awesome person as well. He jumps on things when I have requests over and above his job. Whether it's putting ice melt down on the crosswalk because someone fell or going out and talking to a guy in a semi parked in our lot (it was still dark, but he was taking up several parking places and employees would be arriving soon). I told Randy I was going to go talk to him, and he said he'd do it.....and a lot of other times he's come to my rescue. - Karol
6. Jarrett Sutphin : Wonderful coworker! Always has a great attitude and goes the extra mile. - Anonymous
7. Randy Wallace: Randy always steps up when we're holding weekend interviews. He's the first one hear, 4AM, and never leaves unless he's sure both the Adams Conf and Deans Office areas are ready for our guest. We host around 150 applicants with half that much more families, many from out of state. He works to make our halls and restrooms shine... when 5 to 8 inches of snow expected, 2 inches of ice already on the roads, Randy is here. Sidewalk to parking lot shoveled, floors and rugs ready to go. Please recognize Randy for being our "go to guy" when needed. - Kathy Seay
8. Josh Hardesty: Josh is always on top of whatever needs to happen in the lab and consistently anticipates lab needs; very helpful! - Tamara Gull
9. Tim : Tim always is so bright and happy. He always chats with the students whenever he's passing by and seems genuinely happy to be here. He's very thoughtful of those around him; he opens doors for you, grabs you a chair if you're sitting on the floor, holds the elevator, etc. It's really nice to have someone so positive around. Plus he plays good music when he's cleaning wards. - Anonymous
10. Morgan McDonald: Morgan is a joy to me! In every job it's clear to see Despite the probability She finds a way to smile! She gladly helps with every need To help make sure we all succeed She's a keeper, yes indeed! I hope she stays a while! - Anonymous
11. Jennifer Hamilton: Jennifer doesn't just have one position here at the Dean's Office, she can and does jump in and cover many. From her excellent computer and personal skills to assisting catering with lunch for 150. She volunteers to come early, and stays late, never fails us. Please recognize Jennifer for being my go to person. - Kathy Seay
12. Alee Koetting: Alee is eager to learn and catches on quickly! So Pawesome! - Anonymous
13. Taylor Ivy: Taylor does the job of a million people and does it well, without complaints. She's always there and does a great job with the patients! - Anonymous
14. Hanna Albright: Hanna is very quiet and reserved yet extremely efficient; she has picked up SOPs very quickly and is definitely an asset to the lab! - Tamara Gull

15. Chandler Mossman: Chandler is a fast and efficient guy. He always gets work done quickly before the due date. We just moved into a new lab. He was fantastic at packing stuff and installing instruments, making the move smooth. After moving, he unpacked all the packages and quickly set up new instruments in the new lab. He is kind and helps other sections clean their stuff. - Xiangwei Du

16. Alee Koetting: Alee has such good energy that she brings into the office every single morning that lasts throughout the entire day. She is always open to help when she can and is takes on whatever trainings or tasks gets thrown at her. - Anonymous

17. Jesse Bowman: Jesse does a consistently awesome job keeping the Bacti lab running no matter the circumstances! - Tamara Gull

18. Abby Fitzsimmons: Abby is a fantastic employee all around! In addition to her usual level of amazing, she has helped out extensively with planning for our upcoming new clin path lab space and has helped us evaluate our lab turnaround times. Thank you Abby! - Angela Royal

19. Jessica Kinkade: Jessica is a cautious and reliable person. In the Summer, She helped the section move into a new lab. She spent tremendous time packing stuff in Vet Science and cleaning everything in the lab. In the Winter, she also helped our service lab move into a new lab without any complaints. She is willing to take any work in the section. She is kind and always ready to help people. She is very careful about what she is doing and makes sure they are right and accurate. - Xiangwei Du

20. Maranatha Prenger : My dog has visited the hospital a lot lately and she is always armed and ready with spray cheese and peanut butter (two of his favorite things) to make sure my dog has the most pleasant experience possible. It's the little things like this that can make a huge difference for pets and their owners when facing a scary diagnosis. It's obvious she truly loves what she does and goes above and beyond for her patients. - Anonymous
